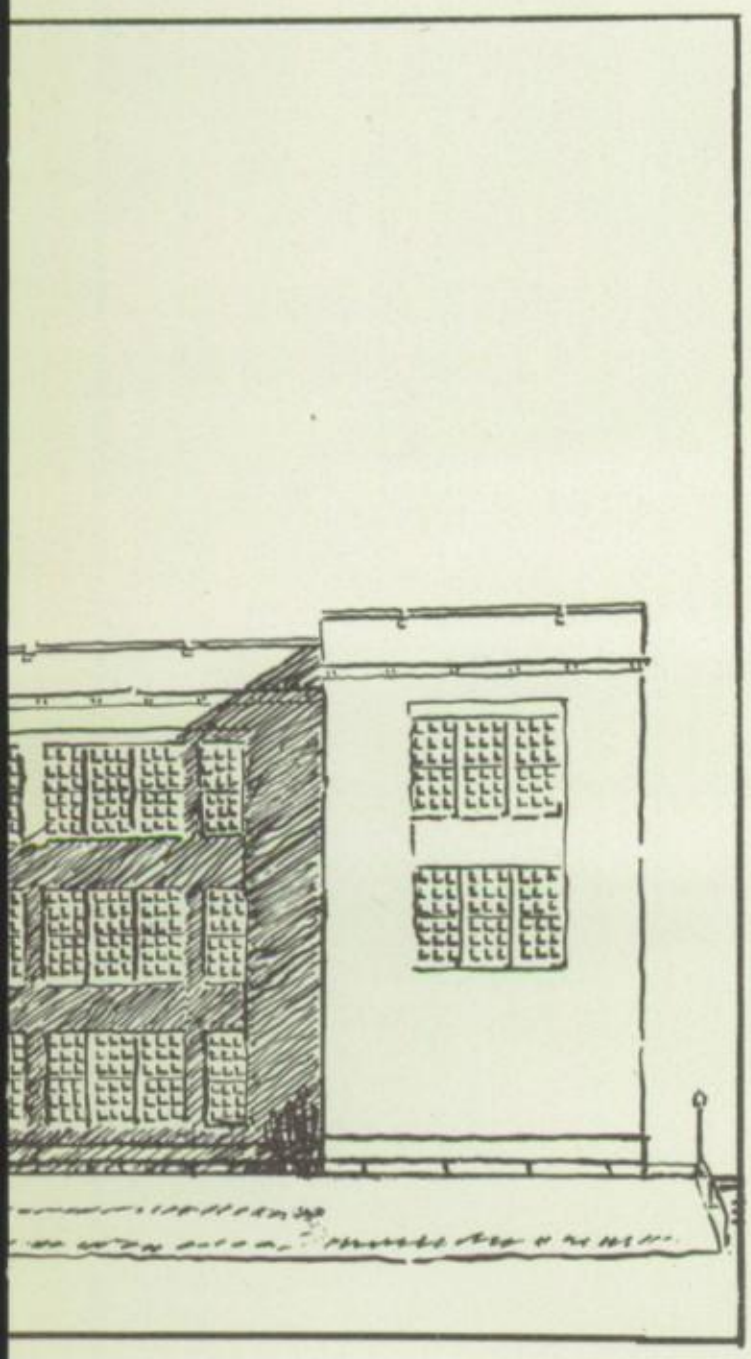
Foreword



This is your SAGA. Somewhere between its covers you will find someone you know, a familiar place, and a memory of something you have done.

We hope, as you look at the story of Creston in 1956 as told in your SAGA, you will spend many happy hours in reverie — re-living parties, plays, athletic contests — but, most of all, remembering friends.

Again, this is your book. You, the people — your clubs — your social life — your activities — we have tried to cover it all.

Dedication

What is more important to any school than a good teacher who can also be a good friend to his students? Believing he combines the wisdom, the tolerance, and the love for learning necssary to a good teacher with the sense of humor and the friendly manner essential for fostering friendships with young people, the Staff of the 1956 SAGA wishes to dedicate its efforts to Mr. John A. Rowell, teacher and friend.

Mr. Rowell came to Creston in 1954 as a teacher in the English department. He has made himself an important part of the school with his teaching; his work as adviser of the school newspaper, the ECHO; and his technical direction of many of the school's theatrical productions.

But even more important to those of us who have become his friends, we have been influenced by his ever-present desire to combine the spirit of truth with the spirit of freedom. As Mr. Rowell leaves Creston we of the SAGA staff wish to express our feelings by quoting from Henry Adams: "A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

FACULTY

"If you have knowledge, let others light their candles by it"

—Fuller—

Mr. Russell L. Waters, new principal at Creston High School, looks up to welcome a student to his office. Transferred last fall from Burton Junior High School, Mr. Waters has already made himself an integral part of the school scene.

Miss Dorothy H. Lawyer in her capacity as assistant principal does much of the detail work of administration of the school, but still finds time to welcome with a smile and a word of greeting all who come to her office.

Mr. Russell L. Waters assumed the task of leading Creston's faculty and student body when he undertook his duties as principal this fall. He replaced Mr. Howard W. Wickett who was promoted to the position of Director of Secondary Schools of the City of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Waters has worked with teachers and students to try to make Creston an even better place in which to go to school. One of his particular fields of interest is athletics, and he hopes to bring new spirit and life to the teams which represent our school.

He is being ably assisted in the task of administration by Assistant Principal Dorothy H. Lawyer. In addition to many routine administrative jobs, Miss Lawyer finds time to counsel many students regarding both academic and personal problems.

Both Mr. Waters and Miss Lawyer are interested in Creston's students and in their activities and try to help them in every possible way as they proceed on their path to becoming mature and intelligent citizens — first of Creston, then of Grand Rapids.

Pupil Personnel Director Lowell McDougal is unfailing in his efforts to help Creston students adjust to the demands of school life.

Mr. Orville Scoville's task at Creston is to assist in keeping attendance regular.

When Creston's doors were opened last fall, returning students noticed many changes among the faculty members. We still welcome Mr. Wickett to our building on occasion, but his position as principal has been assumed by Mr. Waters.

Other persons not returning to their familiar spots this year included Mr. VanKrimpen, Mr. Welch, Mr. Constant, Miss Rusch, Mr. Howland, and Mrs. Doerr. New teachers welcomed to the building were Miss Suzanne O'Neal, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mr. Charles Chase, Mr. Harold Snyder, and Mr. Gene Blossom. To Mr. Joe McGee, who also began teaching here last fall, September must have seemed like a Homecoming; for he was a popular Creston graduate of 1944.

To mention all the ways in which the faculty helps Creston students would be a virtual impossibility; however, we would like to mention the fact that practically every teacher in addition to teaching five hours every day assumes the responsibility for direction of at least one extracurricular activity. Coaches; conductors of musical groups; dramatics, debate, and forensic directors; publications advisers; sponsors of various clubs and organizations; session room teachers—all these people give liberally of their time, talents, and energies to helping Creston students develop all facets of their character and abilities.

Mrs. Margaret Marvel and Mrs. Barbara Hulst not only keep the school office running efficiently but make friendly contact with students who desire information or help.

Miss Lorraine Adams, art teacher, is active with the Friends of Arts organization of the Grand Rapids Art Gallery.

Mrs. Audrey Bird teaches the seventh graders English, math, and geography.

Mr. Donald Black, who teaches English, coaches football and basketball.

Mr. Jay J. Rens and Mr. Martin L. VanWingen are advisers of the senior and junior classes of Creston. Mr. Rens in addition to a busy schedule as teacher of economics finds time to provide wise guidance for all the activities of an eventful senior year, including that highlight of all, graduation day. To Mr. VanWingen falls the job of assisting the juniors as they branch out into the varied activities of upperclassmen—the Amateur Hour, the Revue, and the Prom.

Mr. Gene Blossom, a newcomer to Creston, teaches physiology and biology.

Mr. Charles Chase came to Creston the second semester to teach retail selling.

Mr. John DeVoe teaches instrumental music and conducts the band and orchestra.

Miss Doris Dunham teaches history and sponsors the Amicitia Club.

Mr. David England is active teaching history and managing the book store.

Mrs. JoAnn England, home economics instructor, works with the future cooks of America.

New adviser of the Echo Staff this year was Mr. John Rowell, English teacher.

Discussing problems of mutual interest are Miss Marjorie Matthews, chairman of the mathematics department, and math teachers Mr. Harold Japinga and Mr. William Collison.

Mr. Harold Feringa, English teacher, is well known also for his sponsoring of A.V.E. and the Bible Club.

Mr. Edwin Frederickson instructs the boys in machine shop.

Mr. Frank Goodwin can be found directing the A-Cappella choir and other vocal groups.

Mrs. Doris Green teaches a seventh-grade fused program and advises the newly-formed Junior High Student Council.

Mr. William Haken not only teaches in the commercial department but coaches tennis and advises the cheerleaders.

Mr. Charles Hunt assists boys in wood shop classes.

Mr. Norman Tock and Mr. Emery Toogood intefest many of the students in printing and mechanical drawing.

Miss Harriet Daniels, Miss Aida Hoekstra, and Miss Esther Thomasma have an area of common interest —the teaching of English.

Miss Hallie John, besides teaching English, helps many students in the English work shop.

Mr. Robert Johnson, mathematics teacher, coaches basketball and football.

Miss Norma Jones, one of our librarians, is always ready and willing to help students.

Miss Frances Kilstrom is the girls athletic director and A.B. (Aurora Borealis) sponsor.

Mr. Earl Knutson teaches mathematics and sponsors the Senior High Student Council.

Miss Rita Lally, commercial teacher, can be found working hard on the Saga.

Miss Marguerite Eness, typing teacher, and Miss Esther Wise, bookkeeping and commercial arithmetic teacher, are helpful in giving students many pointers for success in the business world. Miss Eness also teaches Spanish.

Miss Dorothy Bean, history department chairman, meets with Mrs. Caroline Glenn and Miss Mary Windt, teachers of government and history, respectively.

Miss Frances Lanke helps students with many art projects.

Mr. Joe McGee, seventh grade teacher, is one of our coaches.

Mr. Raymond O'Malley is one of Creston's many history teachers.

Miss Suzanne O'Neal is our new junior high music teacher.

Mrs. Evelyn Ostrander teaches biology and physiology and sponsors the Senior Honor Society.

Miss Eugenia Schmitz, our head librarian, sponsors the Library Club.

Surveying work done by a student are Mrs. Ruth Smith, Miss Peggy Smith, and Miss Lydia Croninger, teachers of Home Economics.

Giving forth with the scientific approach are Mr. Harold Carlyon, science department chairman, Mr. Gerritt Wassenaar, physics instructor, and Mr. Harold Snyder whose teaching interest is biology.

Mr. Gil Powers and Sgt. William Friske work with boys in gym classes and the R.O.T.C.

Miss Lois Conrad, new head of the English department, also teaches speech and dramatics.

Teachers of civics Mr. Paul Bowersox and Mr. Gene Kaye are standing near one of the tools of their trade—a map of the State of Michigan.

Miss Elizabeth Schneider teaches English.

Mr. Henry Schrump teaches civics and history and coaches baseball.

Mrs. Sadie Stowell teaches Latin and sponsors the Latin Club.

Some of the people who work behind the scenes at Creston—the Custodial Staff: Mrs. George, Mr. Pfieffer, Mr. Laude, Mr. Beals, Mr. DeWitt, Mr. Giles, Mr. Rens. Missing from the picture is Chief Engineer, Mr. Glen Cavner.

Parent-Teacher Association

Most people fail to realize work done for the benefit of Creston High School students by people who are not actually visible on the school scene. Such a group of people are represented in the picture below—the officers of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Meetings of the P.T.A. are held monthly during the school year. Programs are designed to acquaint parents with the activities of their children in school and to help them understand their children's problems.

Chief money-raising project for the year was a magazine-selling contest in which the Student Council co-operated. P.T.A. Funds are spent on projects which benefit the school and the students.

Treasurer Mrs. Herbert Paasche, President Mr. Joseph VanBlooys, Teacher Vice-President Mr. Harold Feringa, Mother Vice-President Mrs. A. Harvey Smits, Recording Secretary Mrs .Harold Lindeman. Not pictured are Father Vice-President Mr. Kirby Evans and Corresponding Secretary Mrs. William Marckini.

SENIORS

"From the end spring new beginnings"

—Pliny—

Class of 1956

"We finish to begin." These are the words used to describe the seniors who graduate on June 7 at Fountain Street Baptist Church. Our lives at Creston may be ending, but new and more exciting experiences lie ahead. We will never forget, however, the many activities we shared in here at Creston.

As freshmen we really began our social life with the annual St. Pat's Prance.

In the sophomore grade much time was spent preparing for our spring dance known as the Daisy Dip. As sophomores we had our first experience in electing class officers.

Without hesitating we entered our junior year prepared to cope with anything. Our first activity was giving the annual Harvest Hop; this was followed by the Junior Amateur Hour and then the spectacuar "United Nations" Junior Revue. Certainly not to be forgotten was the Junior-Senior Prom given in the Black and Silver Room at the Civic Auditorium.

Now at last it was our turn—our turn to be looked up to as seniors. The year started as we elected the Homecoming Queen and her court. Deloris Kaboos and Tony Powell reigned as King and Queen at the Homecoming Dance, co-sponsored by the Senior Class and the Alumni Association. Between semesters the Mid-term Mingle was given to raise money for our project. With the help of Miss Thomasma and Miss Hoekstra, as well as the class adviser, Mr. Rens, we presented our senior play, "Seven Sisters," which proved to be a big success. Dress-up Day, the annual banquet, and graduation night brought our senior year to a close.

Now we, the seniors of '56, are looking ahead—looking to the future. But we will never forget our four eventful years at Creston High School.

Vice President Bonnie Schuhardt, Secretary Judy Thompson, Treasurer Tom Lannon, President John Gorman.

Bill Anderson: "Athlete and wit combined; a nicer guy is hard to find."

Sam Arrigo: "A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

Orville Ash: "He was fond of school but always able to conceal it."

Dorothy Asman: "She must be doing something to be happy."

Mary Bailey: "In her quiet dignity lay her charm."

Nickolas Baker: "He's a hunter—women are his game."

Bonnie Schuhardt: "Her pastime — keeping us all in stitches."

Elizabeth Shireling: "Her twinkling eyes speak to us of the lighter side of life."

Linda Shotwell: "I'm happy: what's the matter with the rest of the world?"

Kay Silcox: "Then she will talk — goodness! how she will talk."

Judith Simmons: "Wit is the salt of conversations."

Patricia Slauter: "Nice to everyone and liked by all."

Lynda Slykhouse: "Nothing gains a friend as quickly as being one."

David Smith: "Huggin' a pigskin is nice, but!!"

Karen Smith: "Tiny and graceful and pleasant to have around."

Kay Smith: "Twinkle, twinkle, go her eyes; who, we wonder, are the guys?"

Richard Smith: "He likes them short; he likes them tall; but we all know he likes them all."

Barbara Springer: "She's got what it takes to get ahead."

Arlene Stapley: "Energetic yet quiet, but always a friend."

Joy Staley: "Quiet until you get to know her, then!"

Thomas Steiner: " 'Tis feared he'll die of over-work."

David Steinhauer: "By the work one knows the workman."

David Stern: "His mind is a storehouse of knowledge."

Frank Stoddard: "Of all the boys that are so smart, there's none like him."

Marilyn Stoepker: "Hi, and a smile; that's her style."

Joanne Stoner: "She and gloom have no relation."

Joyce Stoner: "Her smile is never ceasing to make another friend."

Dianne Stolorow: "All the world's a stage."

Paul Storm: "Let him have music, and he shall seek no more."

Ellen Stovall: "A pleasant smile, a charming face."

John Sullivan: "Oh, that captivating grin."

John Svechs: "He acts like a woman hater, but who can tell?"

Kay Swan: "Quiet, shy, sweet and gentle."

Donna Swart: "A real live wire."

Thomas Sweeny: "Furnished with argument and good humor."

Leonard Sweeris: "Humor is the harmony of the heart."

David Swigers: "Should we go to school today?"

Dorothy Sydloski: "She tiptoes through life."

William Takens: "A merry heart makes a cheerful countenance."

Judith Thompson: "She is gentle, she is shy, but there is mischief in her eye."

Hilda Tolsma: "She is one of the quiet kind, but a better girl is hard to find."

Richard Tortellet: "Poised and reserved at the right time."

Karen Trofast: "My care is for the future."

Charlene Unseld: "She's kind, she's gentle, but she's always full of fun."

Charles Unseld: "His personality and dark eyes cause long feminine sighs."

Donald VanBall: "Generally speaking, he is generally speaking."

Roger VanBelkum: "Women are his hobby! Some hobby!"

Ronald VandenBosch: "Easy going with a welcoming sense of humor."

Mary Anne Vandervelde: "Oh, those beautiful locks."

Adriana VanderZand: "May she never change except in name."

Larry VanderZand: "The little guy with the big grin."

Sally VanDyke: "She always insists that she flunked the test when she knows her grade passed all the rest."

Raymond VanEck: "A joke a day will keep gloom away."

Richard VanHaften: "I came, I studied (?), I graduated."

Arlan VanKoevering: "A lad with both manners and intelligence."

Roy VanKrimpen: "Wit is his wealth; tact is ready money."

Marian VanOverloop: "If talking were music, she would be a brass band."

Lee Van Popering: "He lives to build, not to boast; a jolly good fellow wherever he goes."

Sharon VanPortfliet: "Personality plus fits her to a T."

Carolyn Van Valkenburg: "What? No boys in heaven? Then leave me here."

John Veenstra: "A tall man must be looked up to."

Louann Veenstra: "A bubbly personality with ways to match."

Robert Verburg: "He keeps on the windy side of care."

Ruth Viergever: "She sings away sorrow, casts away care."

Ruth Visner: "She has a mind of her own, but her heart belongs to someone else."

Marcia Vogel: "She excels not in keeping out of mischief, but in not being caught."

Joanne Wagenaar: "She gets things done and still has a lot of fun."

Judith Wapner: "And her tongue trips merrily on."

Robert Ward: "Let me laugh, for I am gay."

Carol Warfield: "With quietness and beauty."

Jeannine Webber: "Her heart is as great as the world."

Fritz Weidenfeller: "He profits most who serves best."

Eileen Weller: "Giggling is my pastime."

Thomas Weston: "A young man who blushes is better than one who turns pale."

Barbara Wetzel: "Her gracious charms come by the ton, to make her sweet and full of fun."

Carol White: "Compare her to a summer day."

Myrna Williams: "Don't worry today what you can forget about tomorrow."

Thomas Williams: "If I could do other things as fast as I can talk — ."

Pamela Wilton: "My true love hath my heart, and I have his."

Barbara Wood: "Give me laughter because I'll laugh anyway."

Jo Wooten: "Short, dark, and full of pep!"

Beryl Wyma: "Smiles and laughs accompanied by blushes."

David Wynalda: "Politeness is good nature regulated by good sense."

Edward Ysseldyke: "A man who chooses with careful eye."

Susan Zoerner: "Tiny as a petal of a rose and just as valuable."

Class Song

The love which lives within our hearts
And grows with each new friend,
Is that of our old high school days
— Its friendships with no end.
To keep in mind with utmost joy,
Ideals set most high;
To pledge with all our heart and soul
This love that will not die.

With sadness we must realize
Our Creston days are through,
But we'll recall in years to come
Immortal times we knew.
We'll keep in mind with spirits high
Our love for Creston High,
And pledge with all our heart and soul
This love that ne'er will die.

Class of 1957

Secretary Norma Rutkoskey, Treasurer Dan Weller, President Tom Gorman, Vice Presidents Elaine Houston and Elaine Laity.

The juniors began this year by electing as class officers: Tom Gorman, president; Elaine Laity and Elaine Houston, co-vice-presidents; Norma Rutkoskey, secretary; and Dan Weller, treasurer.

First on the schedule was the Harvest Hop, centered around the theme "Jack Frost." During the intermission, Tom Gorman and Mary Wooten were crowned king and queen.

The class put on a pep assembly before the Creston-Union football game.

Peggy Vroman and John Reigling did a fine job as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies for the Talent Show.

Again the high point of the year was the Junior Revue. "Mardi Gras" was chosen as the theme because of its versatility and color. After weeks of preparation the curtains were opened on the Masquerade Ball where Rex and his queen were crowned the rulers of "The Kingdom of Misrule," according to the authentic tradition of the "Mardi Gras."

The Junior Class would like to thank Loretta Almerigi, Charlene Chadwick, and Andrea Darling for their assistance with the dance numbers. Also, Miss Peggy Smith and Mr. William Collison, who coached, directed, and gave us their moral support.

The busy year was brought to a close with the annual Junior-Senior Prom, which was held at the Civic Auditorium.

The Junior Class thanks Mr. Martin Van Wingen for the wonderful help and guidance he has given to us. The Junior Class of '56 will always remember it.

ACTIVITIES

"'Tis not the mere stage of life but the part we play thereon that gives the value."

— Von Schiller —

Seated in center is Queen Deloris Kaboos and King Tony Powell. Standing is Judy Pollie. Seated in front are (left to right): Carol Warfield, Ruth Viergever, and Ruth Ann Hodge.

Three alumni, Ron Stuit, '54, and friend; Sally Glass '54, and Jim Emery, '55.

Homecoming

The ring around the November moon foretold winter, but those inside the Black and Silver room of the Civic Auditorium felt only the glow of Homecoming as couples danced to the music of the Blue Knights. Homecoming: time for alumni to be reunited with Creston, time for the undergraduates to celebrate victory.

Miss Dorothy Bean receiving outstanding teacher's award.

Jim Beard, Judy Thompson, Glenda Douthett, Rosa Lea Grovenor, Mary Jane Rysdyk, Tony Powell.

One Acts

The one act plays, an annual production of the dramatics class, were presented to an enthusiastic audience November 17, in the auditorium. "A Cup of Tea", a drama, and "Two on a Bench", a situation comedy, were the two plays presented. The plays were under the direction of Miss Lois Conrad.

Dick Smith, Cindy Collins.

Peggy Vroman, Cindy Collins, Gordon Krist.

Gloria

The twentieth presentation of Gloria was presented on December 21 and 22, by the music and dramatics departments. Taking part were: Thomas Sweeny, Prophet Priest; Charlene Unseld, Elizabeth; Richard Smith, Joseph; Dorothy Asman, Mary; and Joan Hoard, Barbara Margoles, Kay Schoolmaster, Mary Ann McLenithan, Kay Silcox, and Ruth Viergever, Heavenly Messengers.

Bill Boorstein, Tom.Sweeny, Tony Powell, Larry King.

Barbara Margoles, Bill Boorstein, Tony Powell, Larry King, Tom Sweeny, Dianne Stolorow, Bonnie Schuhardt.

Seven Sisters, a Hungarian comedy, was presented by the Senior Class on March 1 and 2. The play centered around the seven daughters of Mrs. Gyurkovics. Mitzi, one of the daughters, expelled from a convent, tries with her young hero, Lt. Horkoy, to get her three oldest sisters, Katinka, Sari, and Ella married off. With the antics of Janko, the butler, and the three prospective husbands providing comedy, the play proved to be very humorous and extremely enjoyable to its audience.

Nancy Hoffman, Bill Boorstein, Barbara Margoles, Tom Sweeny, Bonnie Schuhardt, Tony Powell, Diane Stolorow, Terry Herman, Joal Ripstra, Larry King.

A Whale of a Tale

Junior Revue

Be a Clown

Mardi Gras: a kaleidescope of fun where people tumble and dance from one celebration to another. Borrowing ideas from that most famous Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans, the juniors tried in their Revue this year to capture the wild, gay spirit that surrounds everything at Mardi Gras time.

In New Orleans the activities begin in February, but the Juniors began their planning and preparation in January. After the theme was selected, committees were set up and the first line dance rehearsals were called. As time and tempers grew shorter and evening rehearsals longer, a person found himself smiling hello to someone he had hardly known before the Revue. Juniors found themselves "burning the midnight oil" to keep up with their school work, staying after school to work out dance routines, and chasing all over town for stage props; but if you asked them if they were tired, they didn't seem to hear you. They would only smile quietly and rush off for a costume fitting.

The long weeks of preparation were over on March 23—the Juniors received their congratulations on a successful show—the Revue belonged to the past.

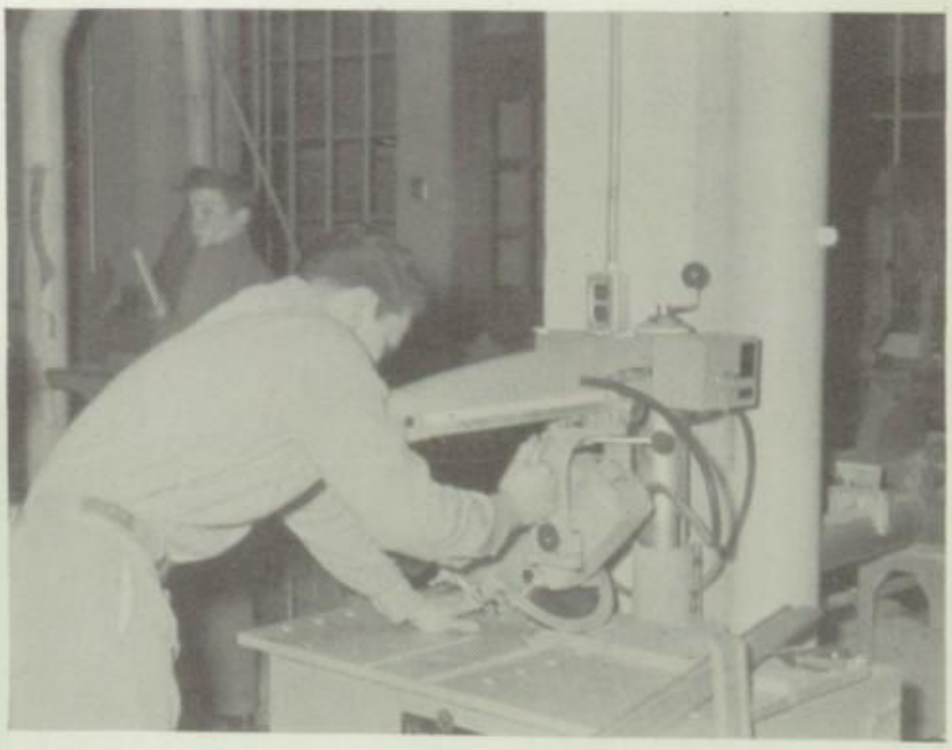
Librarians teach English classes the use of the library facilities. Here we see an interested student using the card catalog.

Familar Places at Creston

Education consists in developing knowledges and skills, habits and attitudes, virtues and ideals to prepare people to live honorable and useful lives. When we look back at a school year, the things which we may remember first are the spectacular events—but the foundation of our education—and the foundation of our school lives—really lies in the classroom.

Much attention is given to improvement of reading abilities. Here the tachistoscope is being used to help increase speed.



Woodworking classes teach boys proper use of tools. They also have the opportunity to make many useful and attractive articles.

Training in office skills and procedures is the purpose of the Office Practice class. Here the Dictaphone is being used.

In the Print Shop boys learn basic operations of equipment; then they gain practical experience by printing programs, posters, and other materials used in presenting school activities.

What makes up a school year? Certainly, the Senior Play, the Junior Revue, the Student Council Carnival—but these events, important as they may be, are secondary to the algebra, English, and biology classes attended by students when they can't find an excuse to get out. In picturing school activities we do not want to give all the attention to the "frosting" of school life; we want to present some scenes which are typical of class activity—scenes which are familiar to every Creston student every day of the school year. For these activities truly represent "a school year."

Maybe all persons in an art class are not budding Rembrandt's; but the students develop an interest in creative activity and an appreciation of the works of genuine artists.

Machine Shop provides interested boys with the opportunity to learn to operate drills, presses, and other types of machines.

Geography classes prepare projects and display exhibits as they study peoples of foreign lands.

Future homemakers prepare for the time when they will produce culinary delights for their own families.

American Government classes give students opportunities to dramatize the activities of the different branches of our government.

Opportunities for learning the domestic arts are amply provided for in our home economics department.

Student Council officers show Miss Dorothy Lawyer, assistant principal, the new Linden Memorial trophy. This trophy is to be awarded annually to a senior boy who has displayed in an outstanding way qualities of citizenship and service.

X - Y may be Greek to some people; but to our mathematics students it's just another algebra problem.

To look out and not in -- and To lend a hand."

Senior Student Council

"We, the students of Creston High school, in order to be of greater service to our school . . . do form ourselves into a school organization and adopt this constitution for our guidance."

These words, the preamble of the Constitution for the Student Council serve as a guide to the group. Starting as a minor unit the Council has grown in stature until today it is recognized as the leading student governing body in the school.

Each year since its organization in 1928 the Council has adopted a project to benefit the community or school. Project for the year 1930: Through the efforts of the hard-working Council the city street cars no longer pass by the corner of Oswald and Plainfield but come to a screeching halt to let teachers and students out one block closer to the school. This year's project was of a different nature, benefiting basketball fans—a new scoreboard for the gym.

In the year 1931 the tradition of the Penny Carnival was begun. Now 25 years later students still vote for their choice for queen with pennies.

Fifteen years ago the first exchange assembly took place through the efforts of the Inter-High Council. Again this year Creston co-operated with Ottawa in presenting a pep assembly.

A ping-pong tourney took the spotlight in 1942. Not quite as eye-straining as a ping-pong match were this year's pep assemblies guaranteed to strain your vocal chords, providing you had the right amount of spark and enthusiasm.

Elections of officers are always exciting as candidates fight right down to the wire for votes. The heated campaigning is climaxed by an assembly where managers praise the merits of their charges. This year's campaigning resulted with the election of John Ley, president; Chuck Unseld, vice-president; Charlene Buckel, secretary; and Bill Anderson, treasurer. (Officers are pictured at left.)

The duties of the officers are: "To promote the general welfare of the school through an organization representing students and faculty." These remain, only the faces change.

Junior Student Council

The Junior High Student Council was formed last fall. They will be a committee of the senior high council and be subject to its jurisdiction until they are able to control their own affairs.

The purpose of the organization is to give the junior high a better voice in the government of the school.

This year their main project was the writing of their constitution by the officers. They also worked on the penny carnival and had a booth in the carnival. The officers for this first year were president, Jim Grutters; vice-president, Larry Mooney; secretary, Phila Kirkbride; and treasurer, Lee Irwin. Mrs. Doris Green is the sponsor.

Courtesy Squad

Secretary Shari VanderStolp, President Chuck Unseld, Vice President Jim Obuchowski

The Courtesy Squad was organized in 1929 under the title of Traffic Committee. Their duty was to improve the hall conditions. It later came to be known as the monitor system, organized as a committee of the Student Council.

In 1936 the Courtesy Squad was under the supervision of Miss Esther Wise, and in 1939 Miss Mary Windt took over. Under the direction of Miss Windt, the student court was organized to punish violators of the school rules. Miss Windt continued as the faculty adviser of the group until this year when Mr. Eugene Kaye took her place. Under Mr. Kaye's supervision the issuing of the new hall passes and violation slips has been initiated.

Ticket Club

The Creston High School Ticket Club has now completed its seventh year of successful organization. At the time when the club was just being started its main function was to sell tickets for athletic events only. Now the club offers it services to any organization which wishes to have tickets sold.

Members of the Ticket Club can be seen every hour of the day as well as before and after school selling tickets for athletic contests and many other events. While tickets are being sold, two members of the club are on duty at the ticket booth. Assisting all the school organizations in their ticket selling activities keeps this club a very active one. Mr. William Collison acted as adviser to the group.

All work and no play? . . . The Echo Staff just doesn't believe in it.

Seated at the typewriters are Marlyn Holquist and Jeanine Webber. Relaying the news for a story is Arlene Stapley.

Girls writing sports stories, the photography editor typing copy, business managers in the corner struggling with a headline, and a sudden mad dash to the printer are some of the scenes that could be found on the night of deadline as the staff combines its efforts to get the paper out on time.

The Journalism class, composed of juniors, serve as reporters as well as being members of the circulation and advertising staffs.

The issues of the Echo for the first semester were awarded the First-Class Honor Rating by the National Scholastic Press Association. The Echo was also chosen this year as a distributor of the Scholastic Roto, a newspaper for high school students.

When Carole White returned for a visit from Georgia, the staff enjoyed her tales of school in the Southland.

Looking over an exchange paper are (seated) Bonnie Schuhardt and Sally VanDyke.

Designing the cover, forward, and division pages were some of the jobs of Jo Wooten, Marilyn Hook, and Bob Ollman.

Dave Gordon and Chuck Unseld take care of the school's athletes. John Gorman, another sports assistant, is not pictured.

Saga

Eventually the events were completed by Carole Bare, Cindy Collins, and Barb Wetzel.

Looking for the birdie-e-e are photographers Bob Brinkman and Frank Stoddard.

Once upon a time many moons ago in the kingdom of unfinished yearbooks there was an editor-in-chief, Joanne Wagenaar. Joanne was a very good editor, but she had no staff to order about; and she was very sad. So straightway she went to Miss Rita Lally seeking aid and words of wisdom. Miss Lally agreed to counsel her, but Joanne was not yet completely happy; she wanted a staff. Wise Miss Lally told Joanne to call together all willing juniors and seniors in the kingdom and select assistants. Straightway Joanne gathered these about her and together they counseled and elected Rosa Lea Grovenor managing editor and Managing the Managing Editor, Rosa Lea Grovenor, is Editor Joanne Wagenaar.

Putting the seniors in their places are Charlene Buckel and Dianne Stolorow.

Classifying the underclassmen are Judy Fewell, Elaine Schankerman, and Jean DeVlieger.

Sizing up the faculty is Betty Shireling while Judy Thompson and Nancy McKay work on clubs and organizations.

court jester, Kathryn Davis and Patricia Dempsey business managers, who also kept things neat and orderly in the kingdom. These three girls were to be Joanne's trusted assistants in the coming year. Now all that remained was to elect the lesser nobles who were in charge of special departments and to appoint to the lowly juniors their minor tasks.

Now Joanne was happy. She had a staff and a job to do. And they all lived happily ever after in the peaceable kingdom of Saga.

Telling tales of the students and their activities is our literary section: Nan Nichoson, Elaine Laity, and Joyce VanOosten.

Working their fingers to the bone trying to balance the budget are Pat Dempsey and Katie Davis.

Circulation Staff

Arvon Byle, Kay Quentin, Janice Gunnett, Linda PreFontaine, Sandy Keith, and Sherryl Gift distribute Echos to classrooms.

Kay Quentin, Linda Woodrick, Barbara Verberg, and Linda PreFontaine check pictures for the Circulation Staff.

Elaine Houston, Loretta Almerigi, Andrea Darling, Janice DeMeester receive assignments from Echo Managing Editor, Glenda Douthett.

Sandy Keith, Norma Rutkoskey, and Elaine Laity prepare advertising copy.

Library Club

Library Club President, Barbara Petersen, is shown charging out a book for Judy Kling.

The Library Club is a service organization whose members give some of their time to helping the school librarians. Their services include such things as mending books, checking books in and out of the library, putting books on shelves, filing magazines, and helping other students find books and reference material. They also set up displays in the library and in the showcases outside the library.

During the mid-year vacation the members sponsored a tea and book display for the faculty.

They also attended conferences at Clear Lake Camp and at Flint, Michigan, and they enjoyed a Halloween party and a Christmas party.

Filing cards is one of the jobs done by Library Club Member Mary Kay Wilson.

Latin Club

"Not for ourselves but for all," the motto of the Latin Club, stands behind all the club projects whether they be a Thanksgiving basket, a CARE package, or financial aid to an Italian boy.

The club meets twice a month alternating between business and social meetings. Christmas and halloween parties were held. The club also sponsored Latin Week in the spring to interest more students in taking Latin.

An "Ides of March" party featured a skit on the death of Ceasar, which was brought about by his failure to spend the required time before his T.V. set watching "The Mickey Mouse Club."

Bible Club

The Bible Club was under the direction of Mr. Harold Feringa this year. The club held its meetings every Friday morning at 8:00 before roll call. In the eight years of organization its enrollment has risen to a total of sixty. The Bible Club is a Christian nonsectarian club with an aim to promote Christian fellowship among high school students. The meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend, because there is no formal membership. The meeting periods are spent singing hymns and listening to speakers.

Amicitia

The Amicitia Club under the sponsorship of Miss Doris Dunham, has been very active this past year. Among its various projects and activities were preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family and making sock dolls for the Herald Santa Claus Girls at Christmas time.

The year started with the initiation of new members, which took place in the school gym. They also sponsored a style show at the beginning of the year, and had a potluck dinner before a basketball game.

The officers of the Amicitia Club this year were—

Girl Scouts

"Service to others" is the main purpose of the 35 girl scouts of Creston High School. This group of girls is divided into three troops. Two of the troops are pictured on this page. The members of the third group, not shown, are: Peggy Vroman, Jane DeLand, Nancy Walbridge, Lourie Ferguson, Edee Crowell, Sarah Jessup, Kay Schoolmaster, Claudia Pugsley, Shirley Davey, Susan VanderWall, Janice Gunnett, Sandy Keith, Dorothy Spenser, Laura Reed, Linda PreFontaine, Lana Lugtigheid, and Corinne Hunt.

Time has not been a thing to spare for the Girl Scouts this year. Among their activities, they have worked on "toys for tots" for the Marine Reserves; made Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets; helped the Salvation Army aid tornado victims; and serve Community Chest dinners.

For their own recreation, the girls have enjoyed spring and winter camping near Ada; modeling for the Gas Company shows; and putting on a spring fashion program.

In the words of one of the girls, "Scouting isn't all work, we have lots of fun, too."

Hi-Y Club

The three points on the blue triangle, the symbol of the Hi-Y represent body, mind, and spirit, the qualities of character the boys try to develop as members.

The most important project for this year was the purchase and presentation of a placque in memory of Mr. Robert Linden, past adviser of Hi-Y who died last year.

This was an active year for the club. The boys were hosts at a hayride and swimming party and were in turn guests at a pot-luck sponsored by the Sr. Y-Teens. In addition to this there were many sales.

Spearheading the activities for this year were Tony Powell, president; Tom DeBoer, vice president; John Reigling, secretary; and Don Seekel, treasurer. Mr. Gene Blossom is the adviser.

C Club

The outstanding highlight of this year's "C Club" was the defeat of the faculty in their annual basketball game. Other money-making projects included sales of pencils containing basketball schedules, basketball programs, paddle pops, and alternating with the Student Council in presenting the noon movies.

The money which was earned by the efforts of these projects will be used to purchase films for moving pictures of future football games. Also a special sports projector was obtained which shows for each player his mistakes. These movies have proved to be a great aid to Mr. Black, who feels that this will add to the success of Creston teams in the future. On the enjoyment side of the picture, the "C Club" has sponsored some of the year's most successful dances.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. Frank Goodwin had a very successful year. They participated in the annual presentation of "Gloria," presented a spring concert, and gave concerts at the Civic Auditorium, Fountain Street Baptist Church, over television, and at various other banquets. Smaller groups within the choir include the boys' quartet, and the madrigals. Choir officers this year were president, Dick Calkins; vice president, Dianne Stolorow; secretary, Dorothy Asman; treasurer, Carole Levenburg; and business manager, Larry King.

The Senior Band has been very successful this past year under the supervision of their director Mr. John De Voe.

They have provided many enjoyable moments for students as well as parents and faculty members at football and basketball games and assemblies. Some of the band's many activities this year included participation in many parades, the Variety Show, and the Spring Concert. Some of the band members competed in the district and state solo and ensemble contests.

The officers this past year were: Bevery Nordyke, president; Loren Udell, vice-president; Charlene Anderson, secretary; and Roger Tobin, treasurer.

Horizon Clubs

"As horizons are ever changing and always distant, I shall not stand still and look into their purple shadows. Instead, I shall seek the higher purposes and the new adventures that lie beyond. I shall reach ever outward to the horizon that is always just beyond my grasp." This is the aim of all the Horizon girls.

Football Hi-lites

Creston opened its 1955 campaign in an impressive fashion downing a good Holland team. The Polar Bears scored early by marching 65 yards in a sustained drive on the opening kick-off. Holland scored before the end of the half by blocking a punt. In the third quarter Creston scored the winning touchdown on a plunge from the three.

The Bears were beaten in their first City League game by the Indians from Ottawa Hills. It appeared to be a matter of over confidence.

Although playing out of its class Creston gave a good account of itself in holding the powerful Catholic Central team to a 7-0 score the first half. The second half proved too much Catholic Central power.

Playing one of its better games of the season, Creston bounced back after two straight defeats to beat Muskegon Catholic. Both of Creston's touchdowns were scored by John De Blaay.

Marred by penalties and mistakes Creston suffered its third straight city loss from Union. Union led at the half 13-0.

but Creston came back and almost pulled the game out of the fire. Roger Van Belkum's spectacular 60 yard touchdown run was nullified by a clipping penalty.

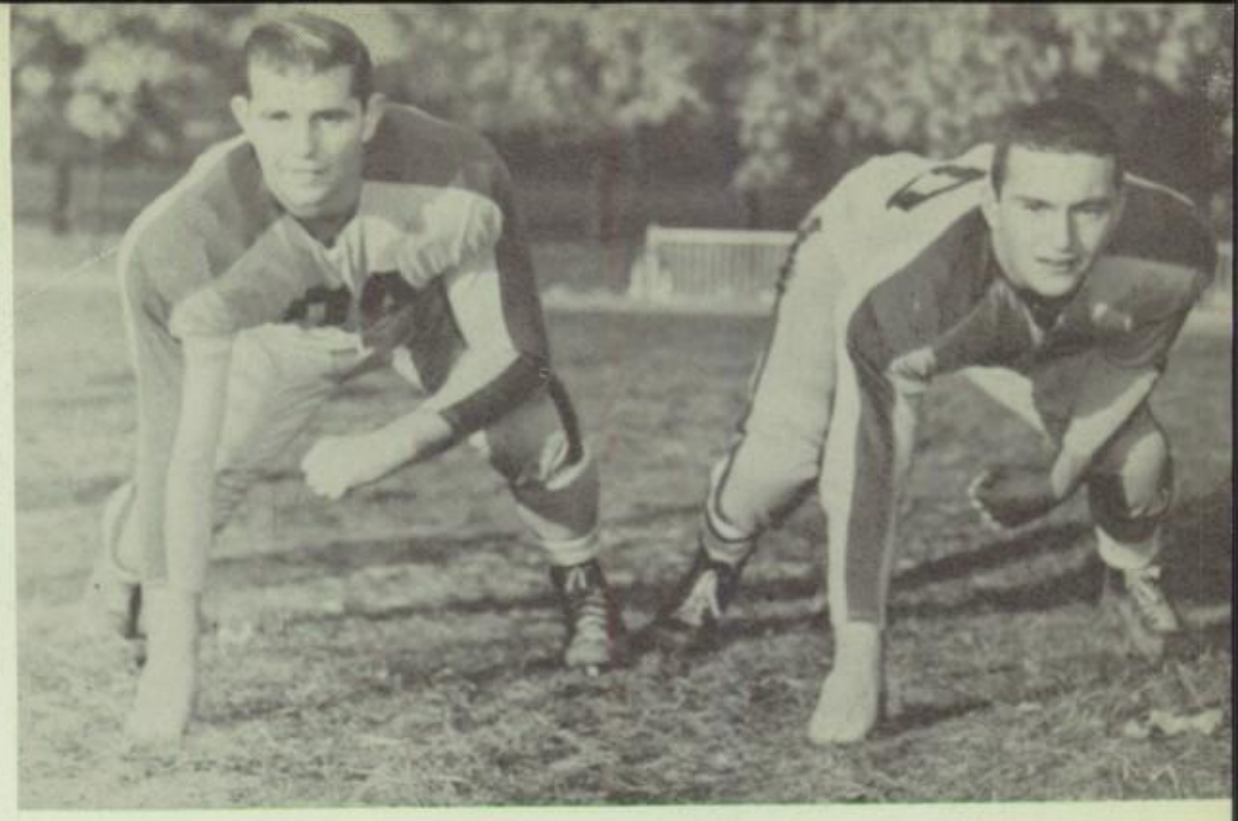
Two very costly poor centers set the stage for South's winning margin. The work of Tom Axdorff and Dick Feutz was outstanding for the Bears.

Central pounced on every Creston error and turned two fumbles into touchdowns, and a pass interception by Ernie Brazil was good for 90 yards and the final Central score.

As for playing Muskegon Heights, one of the powerhouses of the state, it was just a question of too much speed and depth.

It was strictly a team victory with John DeBlaay and Roger VanBelkum supplying the thrills against Grand Haven. De Blaay's scoring of 19 points placed him second to All-State Denny Cook in the City League race.

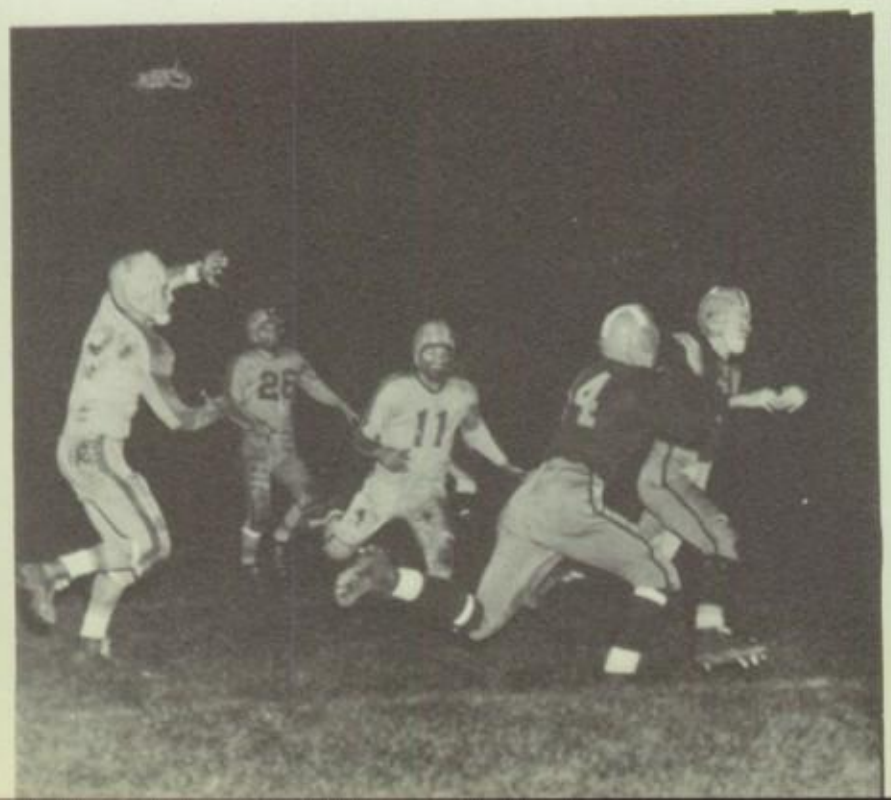
Dick Feutz was elected by his teammates as the most valuable player for the Creston Polar Bears of 1955.

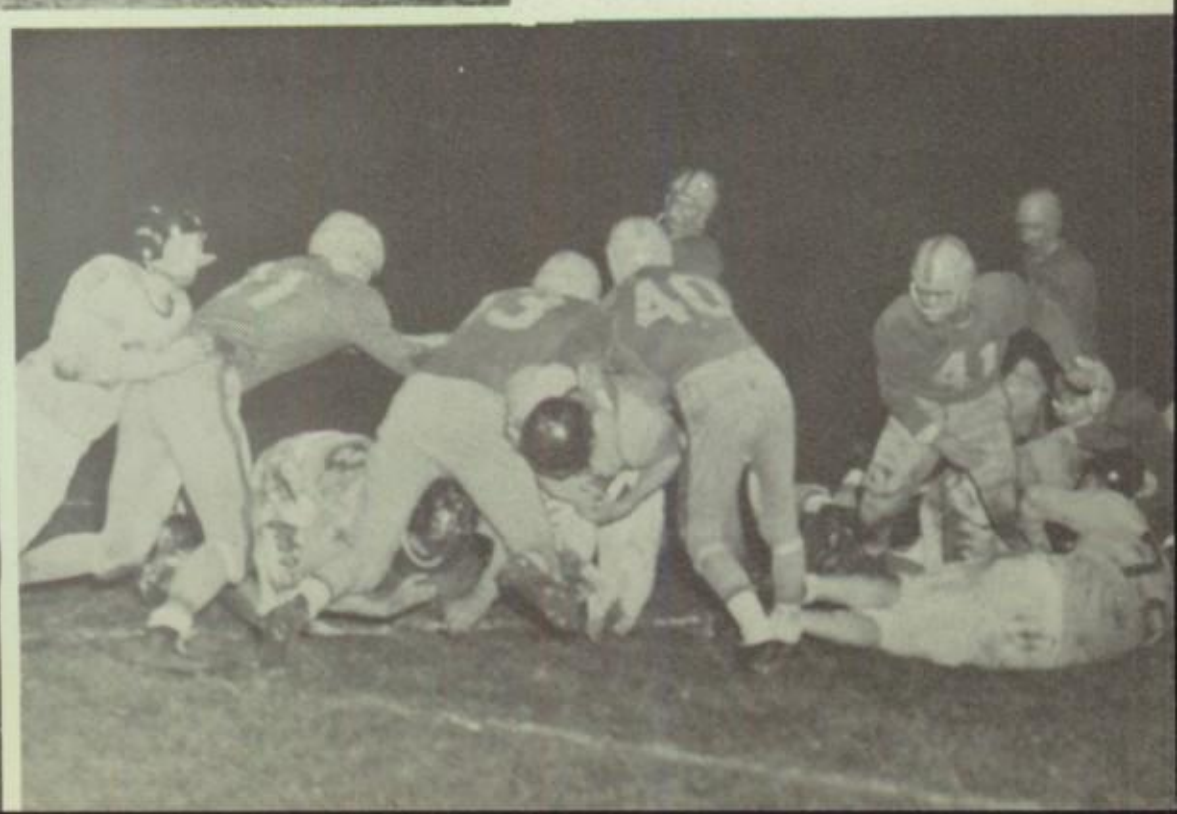


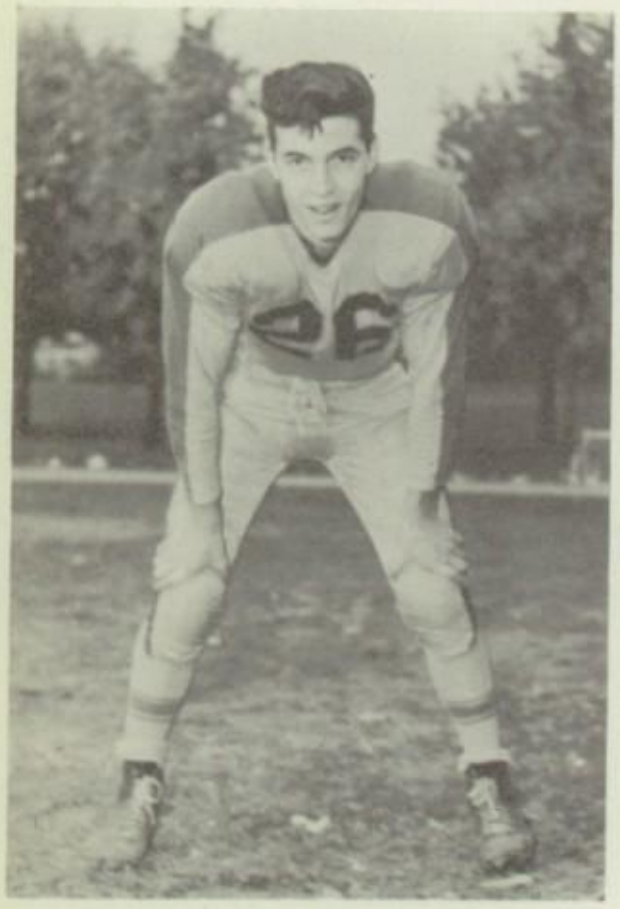
Buck Ash and Tom DeBoer —two tough tackles.

Jim Biener — rugged senior center.

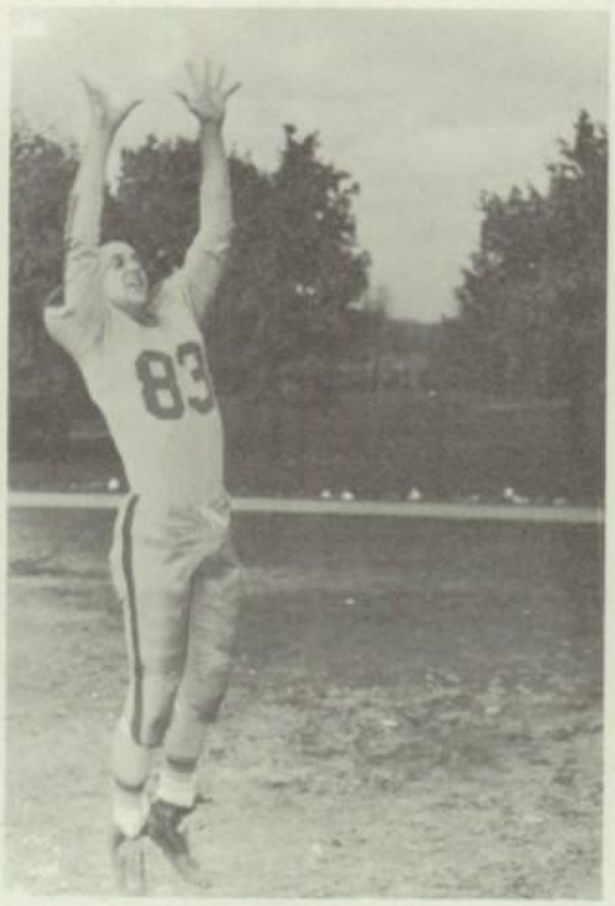
Bill Anderson — versatile: quarterback to end to halfback.



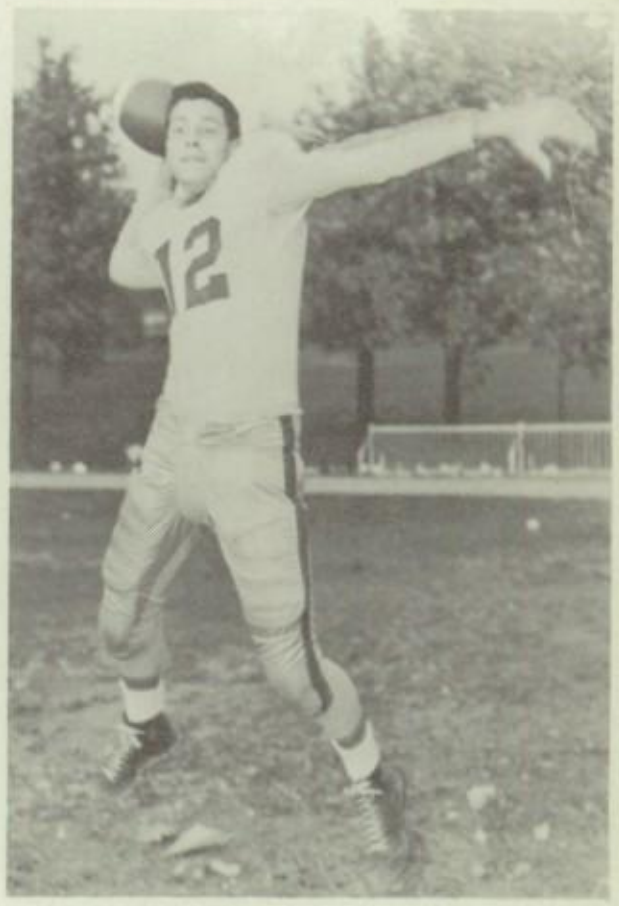




Dick "Fighting" Feutz—halfback.



Jack Magoon—rough 'n ready end.



Don Seekell—able quarterback.

Basketball

Coaches Don Black, Joe McGee, and Bob Johnson.

The Bears began their '55-'56 season in style by downing Alma (59-43). The first game with Christian was played extremely well, but Creston came out on the small end of the score, 62-60, in a double overtime. Mr. Johnson stated that if the boys had taken this contest the season probably would have had a much different outcome. Another factor which had a strong bearing on the final results of the season was the number of injuries to several of the Bears' key players. Bill Anderson, Jack VanBlooys, and Don Seekel had sprained ankles; and Jerry Brunsink had a strained knee.

However, the Polar Bears seemed to hit their stride in the Regionals. First, they whipped Muskegon Catholic; then they edged out Christian in a thriller; and finally were beaten by the number one team in the state, Muskegon Heights in one of the best games of the season. The Heights then went on to capture the Class A crown.

Although the record shows only four victories, the team actually played better ball than this. The Polar Bears were defeated in their first Ottawa game, 84-71; but those 71 points by our boys tied Creston's high point mark for one game.

Hi-lites

The Polar Bears were quite well balanced this season. Tom Lannon, senior, and Ray Wollney, junior, were the team's top scorers during City League play. Tom was honored by being placed on the All-City Second Team. John Svechs was noted for his standout defensive play, as were Don Seekell, Dave Paasche, Bill Anderson, and a few of the other players.

Mr. Johnson is very optimistic about the coming cage season. Returning are Seekell, Wollney, Paasche, and Van Blooys, who will probably form the nucleus of the team, along with several underclassmen brought up during the past year from the second squad.

We may not have had the best basketball team in the city, but Creston's students were always there cheering their team on.

A sheaf of paper, a typewriter, a camera (broken many times along the way), rubber cement, a host of willing workers: Add to these a goodly portion of extra hours at the end of the school day, a certain amount of worry (an ingredient which never ran short), a dash of humor, and a few other things. Result: you have a SAGA. We give you your yearbook with our thanks for letting us do the job — and we hold our breaths awaiting your reactions.
